FRIDAY EVE., SEPT. 2, 1887.

Ten thousand Missouri Democrats are to be in line in St. Louis, to greet the first Treasury they ever helped to elect. The thirty or forty thousand old soldiers whom the Cleveland managers expected to have present on the occasion will be most conspicuous by their absence.

The Treasury surplus is increasing at the rate of $7,500,000 a month, and the important question in the next Congress will be how to reduce it. The Democrats will not be able to agree upon a plan, but the Republican members ought to be prepared to present a practical and sensible measure for relief.

The executive committee of the Democratic state central committee met in Chicago yesterday, and decided to open headquarters at once. It is a good while yet until election time, but as the Illinois Democrats have for many years had no use for a headquarters after election there can be no serious objection to their occupying themselves for a year ahead in anticipating the fun they will have if—

CLEVELAND is to visit Atlanta in October, and the question that is now agitating the people of that city is, shall Jeff Davis be invited to be present and help to give color to the entertainment. The southern people would be delighted to get the only living Democratic ex-President and the only Democratic President that there ever will be, together, and what a yell they would set up if anticipating the fun they will have if—

UNITED STATES MARSHAL COUZINS, of St. Louis, is dead. He was the father of the celebrated Phineo Couzins. But the fact that will interest more people in Missouri than anything else in connection with his death is that he was a Republican, and his death will make room for another Democrat. It is safe to assume that dozens of applications for the place are already on the way to Washington.

The disturbance in Cuba is misinterpreted and is doubtless greatly exaggerated in the reports. Under the rule of the late Captain General Salamanca, unbounded corruption prevailed in the Havana Custom house and throughout the Colonial Administration. He was removed and Captain General Marion appointed in his place. In driving out the thieves and reforming the public service, the new Captain General meets with serious resistance and revolution is threatening, but he will not be defeated. Such are the causes and the nature of the disturbance.

THE VETERAN UNION soldier vote of the United States is probably 700,000 in number. There are 350,000 members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and over half of the Union veterans have joined that organization, but they all sympathize with its movements. With Mr. Cleveland as the Democratic candidate for President, here would be a political element about as solid as the solid South. And the Democratic newspaper and partisans are engaged in a constant effort to aggravate and outrage this body of voters, which is one of the chronic blunders of Bourlonism in politics.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, eminently a leader of Southern Democratic opinion, may not always be right or patriotic, but it is outspoken and fearless. In a recent article discussing the attitude of the negro in the South that paper said: "Yes, the Democratic South has the instinct of the colored vote which gives the Democrats some thirty-eight Congressmen and as many electoral votes, while the colored voter himself is treated as a sort of outside barbarian, who finds it difficult to vote at all, and when he does succeed in getting his ticket in the box it is quite sure that it will never appear in the count." It is only the northern hook-spittle apologist for the Southern methods who attempt to throw dust in the face of the public to prevent it from seeing such facts. These latter, when such matters are brought up, always pipe out with their small voices: "The old issues are dead, let us talk about Ireland."

TEEMER WINS.

One of the Most Magnificent Acquatic Contests in America—
Can Water.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The single scull races on Saratoga lake yesterday resulted in one of the most magnificent aquatic contests ever seen in American waters. The result proved that John Teemer is the champion of American oarsmen, and though Hamlin passed Teemer several times, the latter won handily. When the preliminary whistle was blown at four o'clock, the wind was fresh and the water rather too lumpy for fast time. Fifteen minutes later the call was sounded for the oarsmen to take their places, when Teemer, in his single scull, having to submit to months of delay, as has been the case in previous negotiations, while Canada was consulting Great Britain and Great Britain was consulting the United States.

At the signal Teemer was off at once, closely followed by Hamlin, who lagged Teemer for about two hundred yards, but the latter's powerful thirty-six strokes to the minute, took him to a lead. The race was then on, and when the gun sounded to end the race, Hamlin, No. 1, Lee, No. 2, Teemer, No. 3, and Bubbe, No. 4.

Teemer classification desirable.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The Civil-Service Commissioners have under consideration a plan for more uniform classification of the clerical force in the Government departments, so that, for instance, a copyist whose salary is $300 per annum shall be assigned to each office in the same way as the postman whose salary is $300 per annum.

The Commissioners desire to remove the discrimination that now exists by which positions in one department are exempted from the Civil-Service rules, while exactly similar positions in another department come under the rules. Their second busyness was rounded by Teamer, who swam three-quarters of a mile in nine minutes and forty-seven seconds;

Let me ten minutes and twenty-five seconds.

On the way to the third bridge speed was decreased some, but Teamer kept his lead with ease. Clearing the turn, the oarsmen now made play for good time, and Teamer, who had increased his stroke from thirty-six to thirty-four and maintained this pace to the end, working with the regularity and precision of a machine. His shell seemed to jump through the water at every sweep of the oars, and amid the cheers of hundreds of spectators, he reached the finish eight lengths ahead of Hamlin, who had made desperate but futile efforts to reduce the champion's lead.

Teemer's time was 20:07 1/2; Hamlin's 21:28 1/2.

The dash for the finish was delayed owing to the failure of several oarsmen to pay the purse to come up with the necessary hoodie. Among those who viewed the race was Mr. St. Clair McElroy, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle.

Important Advice from Inter-State Commissioner Cooley—Weber Court Martial.

The Fish Commission—Uniform Classification—The Carolina Islands Affairs—A Conflict of Authority.

A Personal Affair—Coinage for August—The Ute Indians All On the Reservation—Public Debt Reduction.

Judge Cooley Gives Some Good Advice. WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Recently an association of wholesale grocers in Pittsburgh, the Interstate Commerce Commission a protest against any change, as asked by New York, in the present system of freight classification as between car-loads on the one hand, and smaller quantities on the other; but added that they deemed it unnecessary to enter into any argument on the subject, other than to say that the said classification is, in their opinion, just and fair to all concerned.

Fairly a Personal Affair. WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Colonel Brigham at El Paso del Norte has informed the Department of State of his trouble with Judge Zulu, the Mexican magistrate, Indian Agent Cowart, who was with him at the time the alleged insult was inflicted, fully corroborates Consul Brigadier's story in a dispatch to the Consular Agent of India, who was present. However, it is looked upon at the State Department as a purely personal affair, and one not likely to lead to international complications with the sister republic.

Carries for August.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The total coinage executed at the mint of the United States during the month of August was $3,922,000 pieces of the value of $3,908,000. Of this amount $60,000 were half eagles, $20,000 standard silver dollars, $16,000 dimes and $7,800 minor coins. The total gold coinage was $80,000 and the total silver $3,165,000.

The Utes Indians All On the Reservation—The Utes Indians All On the Reservation—Public Debt Reduction.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—An official telegram received to-day from the War Department reports: "Davison, with his troops, Indian Army Borneo, and the head man of the Utes started yesterday to meet Gen. Crook and Governor Adams at Meeker. The Utes are all on the reservation and there are no fears of any leaving it. This can be assured the people of Colorado.

The Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The reduction of the public debt during the month of August amounted to $4,809,470. The total debt now, less cash in the treasury, is $1,174,764,000, and that amount, $1,000,000,000, is the total public debt. The net cash in the treasury is $14,763,900, or about $1,000,000 less than a month ago.

A Drunkard Murders His Wife and Wounds His Daughter.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Thomas Joyce, a vegetable peddler, living on Old Avenue, fatally shot his wife and seriously wounded his daughter, aged eighteen years, shortly after one o'clock yesterday morning. The wife was a drunkard for several months, and was frequently before the Mayor for abusing her family. Yesterday morning he started out to sell his horse and wagon, but failing to do so returned home at noon.

His wife and daughter were washing clothes when he came in and no particular attention was paid to him. At noon he drew a revolver and fired shots in quick succession. Two of the bullets struck Mrs. Joyce and the other two entered the body of the daughter. Both fell bleeding to the floor and the would-be murderer then turned coolly from the house and started down the street. Before he had gone far he was stopped and taken to the Central Station. He was somewhat under the influence of liquor but did not appear much concerned at the terrible deed.

He stated that as he could not sell his horse and wagon, he had determined to exterminate his family and then kill himself. It is considered that he was drunk when he committed the crime. The daughter has an ugly wound in her side and another in her hip. Her condition is quite serious but it is thought that any effort is being made to prevent his escape beyond the borders.

BADFORD, Sept. 2.—The first firemen's parade ever witnessed in Northern Pennsylvania was held yesterday. The firemen, dressed in uniform, marched from the surrounding towns, and standing room was at a premium on the principal thoroughfares. Seventeen companies took part in the parade, accompanied by ten bands. The fire laddies presented a fine appearance, arrayed in neat and showy uniforms, and were much admired. The principal feature of the day was the issuance of summonses for the leaders and principal speakers, and many persons are curious to know whether any of the English visitors will be included among those ordered to appear before the grand jury.

THE CANAL RATES WAR.

Meeting About Freight Rates.

An important meeting of the rail and warehouse commissioners was held in Springfield yesterday, at which were present some twenty to thirty members and shippers from Peoria, Bloomington, Moline, Rock Island and Quincy, to urge a reduction of the maximum freight rates in Illinois, as fixed by the board of railroad commissioners, which it had been formally charged were very much in excess of the interstate rates as voluntarily established and maintained by the railroad companies.

All the railroad companies in the state with the exception of the Lake Erie & Western and the I. B. & W. had representatives in attendance, and the commission urged a full and fierce discussion to the end that all possible light might be spread on the vexed question, and if possible an amicable and fair solution reached.

W. A. Brunbraker, manager of the Peoria freight bureau, opened the ball for the manufacturers and shippers, and presented the rates from the state and the inter-state tariffs, which showed considerably that the former were greatly in excess of the latter, in some instances nearly or quite three times as great. He spoke of the hardships to which Illinois manufacturers and shippers were subjected and asserted as the lower interstate rates fixed by the railroad companies themselves were presumably remunerative, it was plainly the duty of the commission to reduce the maximum rates so that the road might lawfully exact from Illinois people.

Others spoke on the same line, and after several of the railroad men spoke. They were decidedly wary, and insisted in general terms that they were unable to give inter-state rates on Illinois business; that they were forced to adopt the lower rates on inter-state traffic and that if they attempted to hold out against these they would be shut off from outside business. The discussion was protracted to a late hour and an adjournment was then taken until to-day. Secretary Cloyd, of the Decatur Board of Trade, was among the representatives present from this city.

The Convention.

Some of the Business Men.

(Special Correspondence.)

New York, Aug. 30.—There he is!

"Where? I don't see him."

"Why the little fellow in the crowd of brokers to the right of that pillar?"

"Oh, yes, I see him now. So that is Eddie Gould."

"Yes, that Eddie Gould, who has made him to be. He has all the dash of his father and the courage of a Napoleon. I predict that he will make a great name in the field of speculation before he is 30 years old."

This conversation took place one day this week in the board room of the Combined Stock Exchange. The speakers were Eddie Gould and his father, James Gould, a man of the world of finance, been amazed at the news of young Edward Gould, second son of Jay Gould. This youngster is not quite 22 years old, and yet he seems to know about the quicksands and depths of speculation.

For the past few weeks he has been famous in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He is a member of the Divinity School, and a student of the Law.

He has been liked upon opposite surgery.

Dr. Henry F. Looms, son of the famous professor of that name, graduated about five years ago. He has written a text book on practice which has been generally adopted by students. He is a good histiologist and pathologist, and has a very good reputation.

Dr. John H. Ward, another youngster, is the son of Dr. Ward, a physician and surgeon, who died last year.

This young man is not quite 22
years old, and yet he seems to know about the quicksands and depths of speculation.

He is a bold, fearless operator, and is one of the most popular young physicians in the country. Professor J. Whitton Wright is a very young man. He began life before the man, drafted into the army, and the man became a doctor.

He is a good histiologist and pathologist.

Dr. William T. Bull is another youngster, son of the well-known surgeon of the Creedmoor fire team.
